

Adam Ryan

Chief Executive Officer

Adam is the Founder and CEO of think and has an impressive record of success with Software As A Service business models.

Adam was one of the original five founding management team members of seek.com.au in 1997 and was responsible for the growth of seek's markets in Australia and New Zealand. Adam's success during these formative years established seek as the leader in Australia and gave it the platform to be the world's largest employment job seeker destination, is listed on the Australian Stock Exchange and is valued at over $3 Billion.

Adam has completed a Graduate Diploma in Advertising and graduated top Student at Monash University for a Post Graduate Diploma in International Business. Adam is currently completing his MBA and Masters of Business Law.

"think aims to be the engine behind the world's best buying organisations."

